Hunter West had lost the beautiful, voluptuous red-head six months ago. I liked it, it was way too short but from what I read David needed a wife and Jenna happens to over hear the conversation she jokes and goes on with her day. I know the book would have picked its pace later on but I couldn't waste my time. And why did he keep kissing her as if she was the only woman in the world that mattered? In the beginning, the story gave us a bit of each character. This one is no different than her other works regardsto her OTT and possessive of all what proposal are they talking about and the title?
