On this first leg he learns to set table aboard the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth before she sets sail and discovers how Cunard steamers began by transporting post across the Atlantic. In the ancient capital of Scotland, Perth he learns what it takes to make a sporran before catching the Highland Main Line to Pitlochry and one of Queen Victoria 's favourite haunts.

Michael finds out about shoddy, a successful 19th-century recycling industry. Next stop is Severn Tunnel Junction in Wales, where he explores an extraordinary piece of Victorian engineering with its own pump house pumping out millions of gallons a day to keep the Severn Tunnel dry. Lowry 's paintings - most recognisably with matchstick figures.

Continuing his journey south-west into Essex, he helps to dredge for oysters. In Linlithgow he marvels at the ingenuity of the engineers who built the Union Canal and experiences a 21st century technological refinement at Falkirk.
